Read the given passage and answer the following questions.

Saadat Hasan Manto is considered as one of the best short-story writers in the whole of South Asia. His writing career just spanned across two decades but he has a rich collection of literary work.

Manto was a central and controversial figure on the subcontinent's literary scene from the 1940s until his untimely death in 1955. In their introductory essay to this collection, the editors offer evidence that Manto was a deeply political writer, one committed to radical humanism. Despite his often fraught relationship with the Progressive Writers' Association, he rightfully belongs within the fold of the progressives. Ismat Chughtai, in her memoir of Manto known as Kaghazi hai Pairahaan, says, "His (Manto's) stories unsettle us because they take us to the darker, brutal corners of our psyche, to desires repressed and ugliness that settles." Which seems so true once we start exploring the emotional layers within Manto's writings, where he wrote extensively about the twisted and dark corners of human psyche at the backdrop of partition. In times like these where reality is too hard to bear, when we either try to insulate ourselves from socio-political realities in order to not become 'too political', or we turn a blind eye because that's an easier way out anyway, reading about Manto and his afsaane (stories) is a challenge in itself, because it questions way too many complexities of life, of society, of your own privilege, while stirring the very core of our innate emotions. Manto speaks directly to our emotions, and his writings create anxiety amongst those who tried their best to preserve the status quo. While drawing the juncture between religion, national identity and patriarchy quite skillfully in almost all of his short stories, Manto tried understanding the political underpinnings of female body, over which communal hatred was played on. The intersection of gender-based violence with religious hatred in his stories point at the grim reality of society where female bodies are still used to inflict violence and showcase the domination of power of one religious sect over the other. There's a prevailing idea of deriving pleasure by inflicting pain on the fellow individual who belongs to a different community.

Manto was also writing realism, by focusing on his cultural milieu. To demand that every progressive writer concentrates on the lives of millworkers, apart from seriously limiting the context of social concern, aims to control (manipulate, dull) the unfathomable promise of the writer, even understood as an agent of social change. Something Manto undoubtedly was. To treat the writer as an appendage of the revolution demeans both, the writer and revolution.

Manto was a difficult lover, friend and writer. He wrote at a time when it was difficult for a writer of his sensibility to write. Manto is our contemporary, not because he could see what was coming ahead of him, but because he could accurately detect the unresolved barbarism of his time that would return to haunt us. A truly contemporary writer is always a misfit for her times. She fits her times too violently, for it to bear all of her. Manto is our double, the one we are scared to remember. Can we bear Manto today, just because we eulogise him?

Read the given passage and answer the following questions.

Saadat Hasan Manto is considered as one of the best short-story writers in the whole of South Asia. His writing career just spanned across two decades but he has a rich collection of literary work.

Manto was a central and controversial figure on the subcontinent's literary scene from the 1940s until his untimely death in 1955. In their introductory essay to this collection, the editors offer evidence that Manto was a deeply political writer, one committed to radical humanism.

Despite his often fraught relationship with the Progressive Writers' Association, he rightfully belongs within the fold of the progressives.

Ismat Chughtai, in her memoir of Manto known as Kaghazi hai Pairahaan, says, "His (Manto's) stories unsettle us because they take us to the darker, brutal corners of our psyche, to desires repressed and ugliness that settles.”Which seems so true once we start exploring the emotional layers within Manto’s writings, where he wrote extensively about the twisted and dark corners of human psyche at the backdrop of partition. In times like these where reality is too hard to bear, when we either try to insulate ourselves from socio-political realities in order to not become ‘too political’, or we turn a blind eye because that’s an easier way out anyway, reading about Manto and his afsaane (stories) is a challenge in itself, because it questions way too many complexities of life, of society, of your own privilege, while stirring the very core of our innate emotions.

Manto speaks directly to our emotions, and his writings create anxiety amongst those who tried their best to preserve the status quo.

While drawing the juncture between religion, national identity and patriarchy quite skillfully in almost all of his short stories, Manto tried understanding the political underpinnings of female body, over which communal hatred was played on. The intersection of gender-based violence with religious hatred in his stories point at the grim reality of society where female bodies are still used to inflict violence and showcase the domination of power of one religious sect over the other. There’s a prevailing idea of deriving pleasure by inflicting pain on the fellow individual who belongs to a different community.

Manto was also writing realism, by focusing on his cultural milieu. To demand that every progressive writer concentrates on the lives of millworkers, apart from seriously limiting the context of social concern, aims to control (manipulate, dull) the unfathomable promise of the writer, even understood as an agent of social change. Something Manto undoubtedly was. To treat the writer as an appendage of the revolution demeans both, the writer and revolution.

Manto was a difficult lover, friend and writer. He wrote at a time when it was difficult for a writer of his sensibility to write. Manto is our contemporary, not because he could see what was coming ahead of him, but because he could accurately detect the unresolved barbarism of his time that would return to haunt us. A truly contemporary writer is always a misfit for her times. She fits her times too violently, for it to bear all of her. Manto is our double, the one we are scared to remember. Can we bear Manto today, just because we eulogise him?

Read the given passage and answer the following questions.

Tea began as a medicine and grew into a beverage. In China, in the eighth century, it entered the realm of poetry as one of the polite amusements. The fifteenth century saw Japan ennoble it into a religion of aestheticism-- Teism. Teism is a cult founded on the adoration of the beautiful among the sordid facts of everyday existence. It inculcates purity and harmony, the mystery of mutual charity, the romanticism of the social order. It is essentially a worship of the Imperfect, as it is a tender attempt to accomplish something possible in this impossible thing we know as life. The Philosophy of Tea is not mere aestheticism in the ordinary acceptance of the term, for it expresses conjointly with ethics and religion our whole point of view about man and nature. It is hygiene, for it enforces cleanliness; it is economics, for it shows comfort in simplicity rather than in the complex and costly; it is moral geometry, inasmuch as it defines our sense of proportion to the universe. It represents the true spirit of Eastern democracy by making all its votaries aristocrats in taste.

The long isolation of Japan from the rest of the world, so conducive to introspection, has been highly favourable to the development of Teism. Our home and habits, costume and cuisine, porcelain, lacquer, painting-- our very literature--all have been subject to its influence. No student of Japanese culture could ever ignore its presence. It has permeated the elegance of noble boudoirs, and entered the abode of the humble. Our peasants have learned to arrange flowers, our meanest labourer to offer his salutation to the rocks and waters. In our common parlance we speak of the man "with no tea" in him, when he is insusceptible to the seriocomic interests of the personal drama. Again, we stigmatise the untamed aesthete who, regardless of the mundane tragedy, runs riot in the springtide of emancipated emotions, as one "with too much tea" in him.

कितना मनोहर, कितना सुहावना प्रभात है। वृक्षों पर कुछ अजीब हरियाली है, खेतों में कुछ अजीब रौनक है, आसमान पर कुछ अजीब लालिमा है। आज का सूर्य देखो, कितना प्यारा, कितना शीतल है, मानो संसार को ईद की बधाई दे रहा है। गाँव में कितनी हलचल है। ईदगाह जाने की तैयारियाँ हो रही हैं। किसी के कुरते में बटन नहीं है, पड़ोस के घर से सुई-तागा लेने दौड़ा जा रहा है। किसी के जूते कड़े हो गये हैं, उनमें तेल डालने के लिए तेली के घर भागा जाता है। जल्दी-जल्दी बैलों को सानी-पानी दे दें। ईदगाह से लौटते-लौटते दोपहर हो जायेगी तीन कोस का पैदल रास्ता, फिर सैकड़ों आदमियों से मिलना-भेंटना, दोपहर के पहले लौटना असम्भव है। लड़के सबसे ज्यादा प्रसन्न हैं। किसी ने एक रोजा रखा है, वह भी दोपहर तक, किसी ने वह भी नहीं, लेकिन ईदगाह जाने की खुशी उनके हिस्से की चीज है। रोजे बड़े-बूढ़ों के लिए होंगे। इनके लिए तो ईद है। रोज ईद का नाम रटते थे, आज वह आ गयी।

अब जल्दी पड़ी है कि लोग ईदगाह क्यों नहीं चलते। इन्हें गृहस्थी की चिंताओं से क्या प्रयोजन सेवियों के लिए दूध और शक्कर घर में है या नहीं, इनकी बला से, ये तो संवैयों खायेंगे। वह क्या जानें कि अब्बाजान क्यों बदहवास चौधरी क्रायम अली के घर दौड़े जा रहे हैं। उन्हें क्या खबर कि चौधरी आज आँखें बदललें, तो यह सारी ईद मुहर्रम हो जाये। उनकी अपनी जेबों में तो कुबेर का भरा हुआ है। बारबार जेब से अपना खजाना निकालकर गिनते हैं और खुश होकर फिर रखलेते हैं। गिनता है, एक-दो, दस-बारह! उसके पास बारह पैसे हैं। मोहसिन के महमूद पास एक, दो, तीन, आठ, नौ, पंद्रह पैसे हैं। इन्हीं अनगिनत पैसों में अनगिनत चीजें लायेंगे-खिलौने, मिठाइयाँ, बिगुल, गेंद और जाने क्या-क्या।

बबूल मेरे जीवन के अनेक जीवित संदर्भों और अनुभवों से गुँथा है। एक दृश्य उभरता है बचपन का - मैं अपने खेतों को पहचानने में अक्सर भटक जाया करता था, लेकिन बबूल के पेड़ खड़े थे, उन्हें फौरन पहचान लेता था। उन बबूलों को अनेक मौसमों में, अनेक फसलों में, अनेक मनःस्थितियों में देखा है। फसल जवानी में होती, हम बबूल के नीचे बैठकर रखवाली करते, चिड़ियों को उड़ाते और दोस्तों को इकट्ठा कर कहानियाँ सुनते-सुनाते - राजा-रानी की कहानियाँ, हिरन और चूहे की दोस्ती की कहानियाँ, अनाथ ईमानदार बच्चों की कहानियाँ, जंगल की कहानियाँ, खेत की कहानियाँ, दया, न्याय और सत्य की कहानियाँ...। बबूल अपनी छाँह

फैलाए सब सुनता रहता, और बया बड़े विश्वास के साथ उस पर अपना घोंसला बनाया करती। हम लोग बया के लटके हुए सुंदर-मजबूत घोंसलों को देखते और समझ नहीं पाते कि बया ऐसे सुंदर घोंसले बबूल पर ही क्यों बनाती है! ...खेलते-खेलते मैंने कई बार बबुरी की माला बनायी थी, और बचपन के मासूम गले में पहनाई थी। खेलते-खेलते उसके काँटे तलवों में गड़े हैं, जिन्हें लिए हुए घर आया हूँ और माँ ने बड़े प्यार भरे हाथों से धीरे-धीरे निकाला है। माँ नहीं है आज, लेकिन उसके स्पर्श हर काँटे के साथ तलवों में सरसरा रहे हैं। आज पाँव में काँटे नहीं गड़ते। हमेशा जमीन और पाँव के बीच एक दूरी बनी रहती है, जूते की। कोई किसी का काँटा नहीं निकाल सकता। अपने-अपने टूटे काँटे लिए सभी बंद कमरों की तरह घूमते रहते हैं। अजनबी अपने से, दूसरों से। मेरे खेतों के बबूलों ने मुझे कई बार रुलाया है, कई बार मेरे कपड़े फाड़े हैं, मेरे अंग नोचे हैं - लेकिन वह हमेशा मेरे करीब होते गए हैं, मुझमें खुलते गए हैं। जब बरसात में मेरे खेत पानी से भर जाते, धान के पौधे भीगी हवा के झोंकों में काँपने लगते, तो पीले-पीले फूलों से लदे बबूल की छाया पानी में झरती रहती, और मैं देखता रहता। मैंने अपने खेतों के इन बबूलों की डालियों को कई बार कटते हुए देखा है - दादी मरी हैं, दादा मरे हैं माँ मरी है, बहन मरी है; और हर बार इस हमदर्द साथी ने अपनी डालियाँ लुटाई हैं। कटकर आधा हुआ है, फिर पनपा है। कटकर कभी मुरझाया नहीं है, चुका नहीं है; बल्कि अपने को हमारे जीवन में व्याप्त कर व्यापक बनाया है - एक-एक संवेदना को छुआ है - कभी काँटों से, कभी फूलों से। इन सारे खेतों में वह डूबा है, फैला है। फावड़ा खेतों की जड़ता तोड़ रहा है, फसल उगाने को। फावड़े में बेंट बनकर बबूल उगा है। हाँसिए फसलें बटोर रहे हैं, बबूल उनकी बाँह बनकर उन्हें पकड़े हुए हैं। छोटे-छोटे खटोले, जो मेरी कितनी ही नींद और स्वप्नों के साक्षी हैं, बबूल से ही बने हुए हैं। पता नहीं वे बबूल अब खेतों में हैं कि नहीं?
